Daniel L. Barry Land Surveyor, LLC is growing Land Surveying firm located in southwestern New York offering a wide range of Land Surveying Services in New York and Pennsylvania.

As a crew chief with Daniel L. Barry Land, you would collaborate with Licensed Surveyors and survey field technicians to provide professional services to our clients. The crew chief position would include both field and office responsibilities.

Typical duties include but are not limited to the following:

Deed and records research; plotting deed descriptions; writing legal descriptions; drafting and computations using Traverse-PC Software;

Completing assigned field work in a professional, efficient manner while using the latest technological surveying techniques. Most field work is focused on boundary surveying; however, we do some larger scale topographic surveys for some select clients.

Required Skills and Knowledge:

Associates or bachelor's degree in Land Surveying (or related Degree)

A range of entry level to 5 years' experience in both field and office duties relating to land surveying projects.

Familiar with TDS data collection software (or an equivalent software), Robotic Total Stations, conventional Total Stations, GNSS Base/Rover receivers, etc.

A valid driver's license.

Obtaining Professional Licensure would be encouraged at this firm.

Daniel L Barry Land Surveying, LLC has been providing services since 1986. We offer competitive wages and benefits. Interested candidates can send a resume to Scott@danbarrysurveyor.com
